

Teacher Professional Learning Survey 2022

edWeb.net is global professional learning network that provides free professional learning communities and edWebinars so educators can share their best ideas and practices to improve teaching, learning, and education for all.

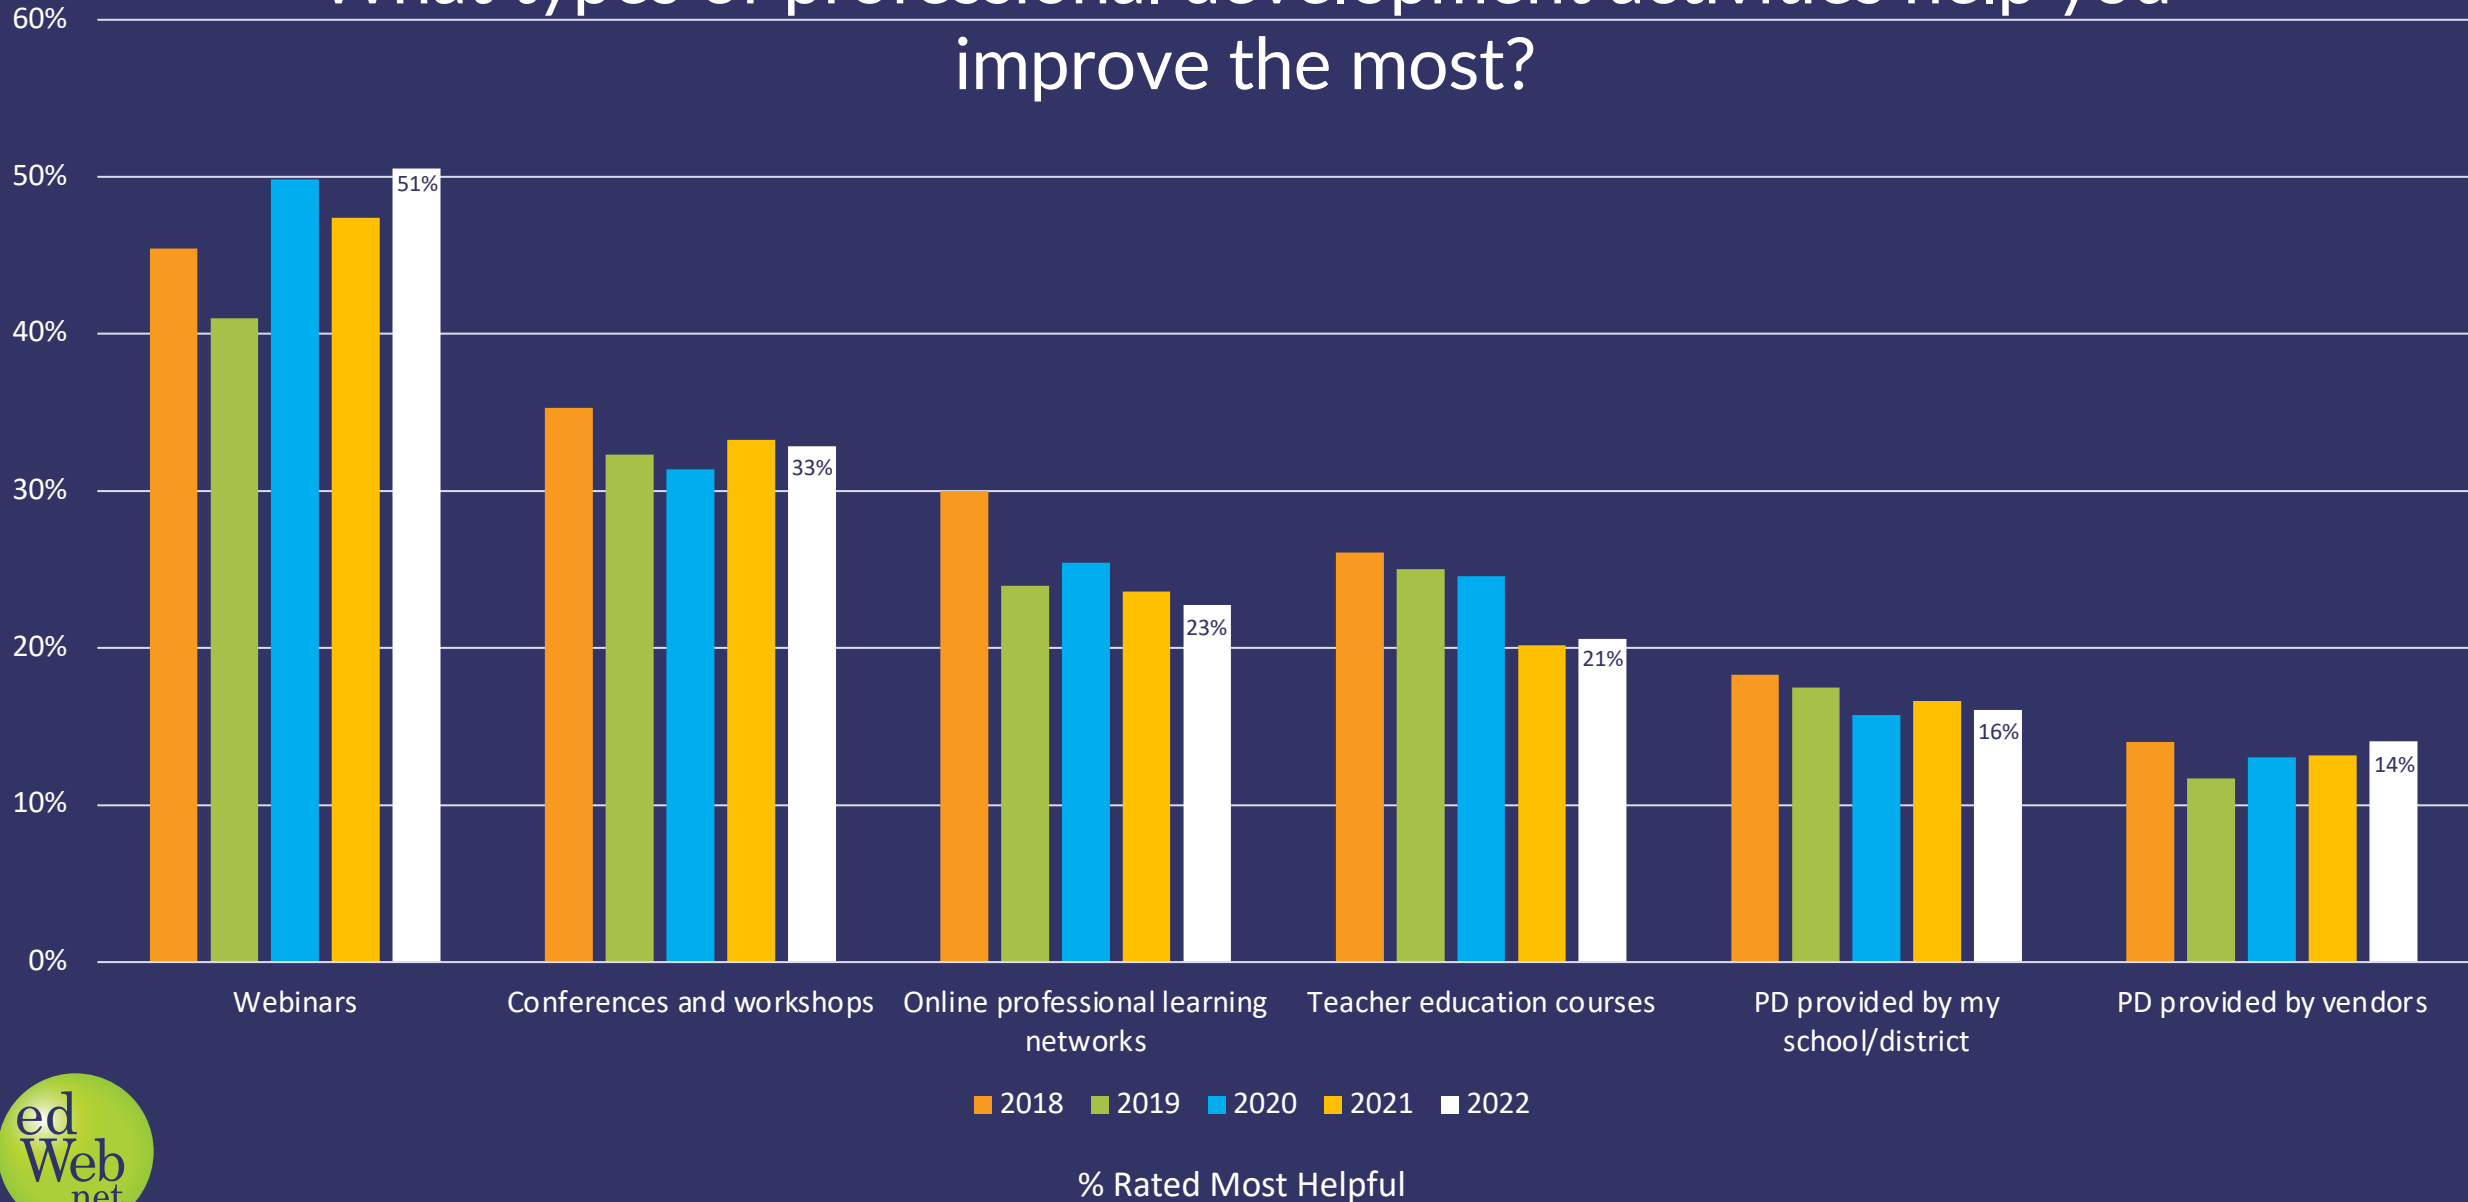

edWeb has conducted a Teacher Professional Learning Survey for the past 5 years with our teacher members to gather feedback and track changes in practice.

The 2022 survey was conducted in early February and was sent via email to 127,000 edWeb teacher members. We received 1,245 replies, a 1% response rate, with no incentive. The quantity and response rate is comparable to past years.

2022 Key Takeaways from edWeb Teachers

- Webinars continue to be the professional learning activity that helps them improve the most.
- It's most important that the content is current and relevant, that they can participate on their own time, and that the programs are free.
- 60% use edWeb CE certificates for their school and district PD hours
- 45% use edWeb CE certificates to renew their state teacher's license.
- 57% report that professional learning on edWeb impacts their students' learning.
- 50% share their learning with colleagues, and it impacts their students' learning.
- 32% report that edWeb has had a schoolwide impact on student learning.

What types of professional development activities help you improve the most?

Why do you participate in professional learning programs?

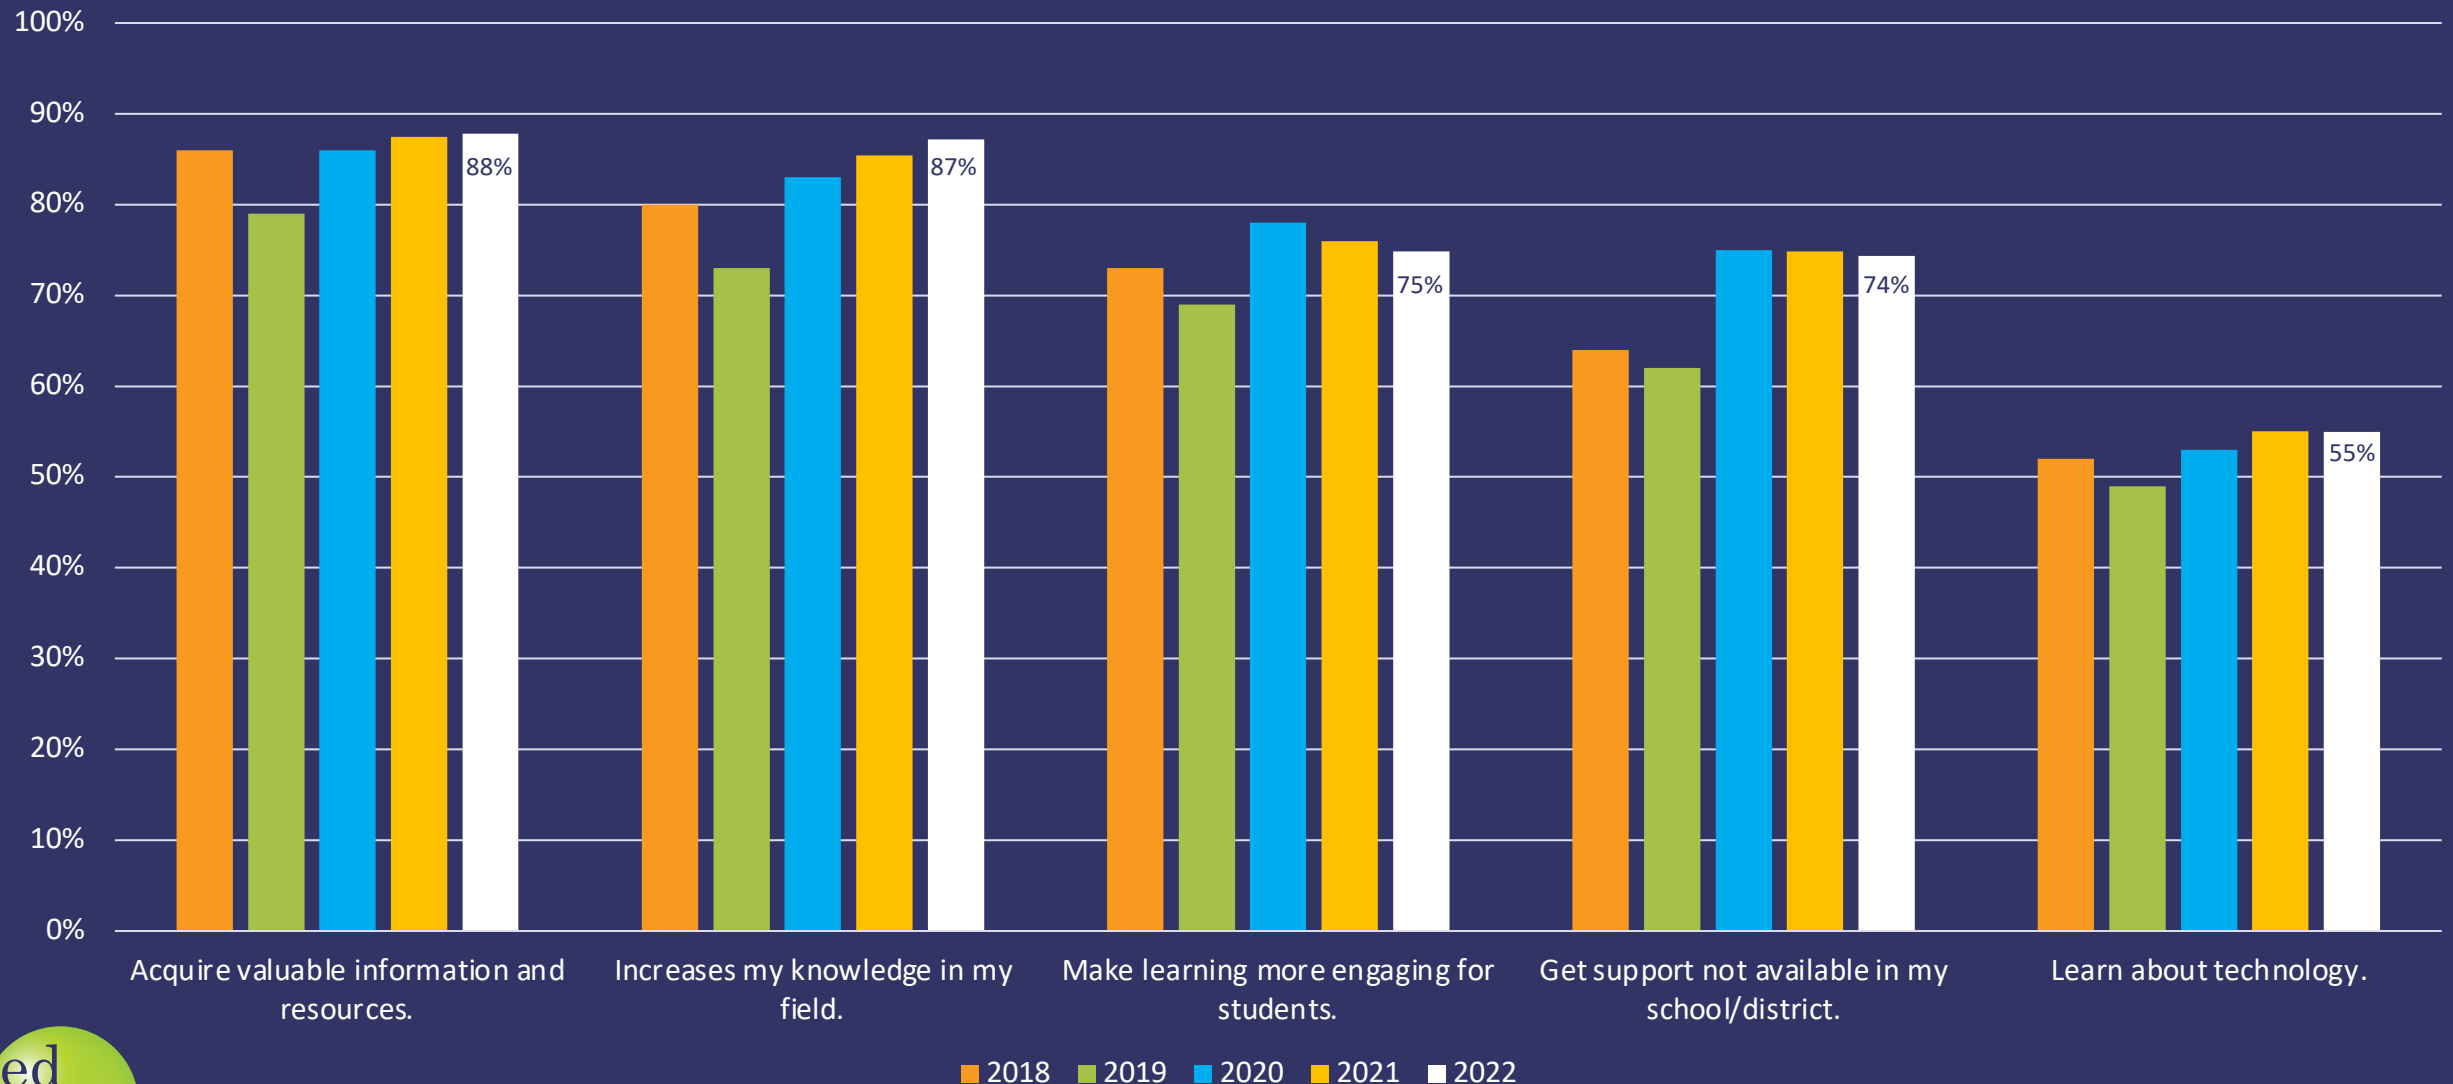

% Participation

What is important to you in a professional learning program?

How has edWeb helped you this past year?

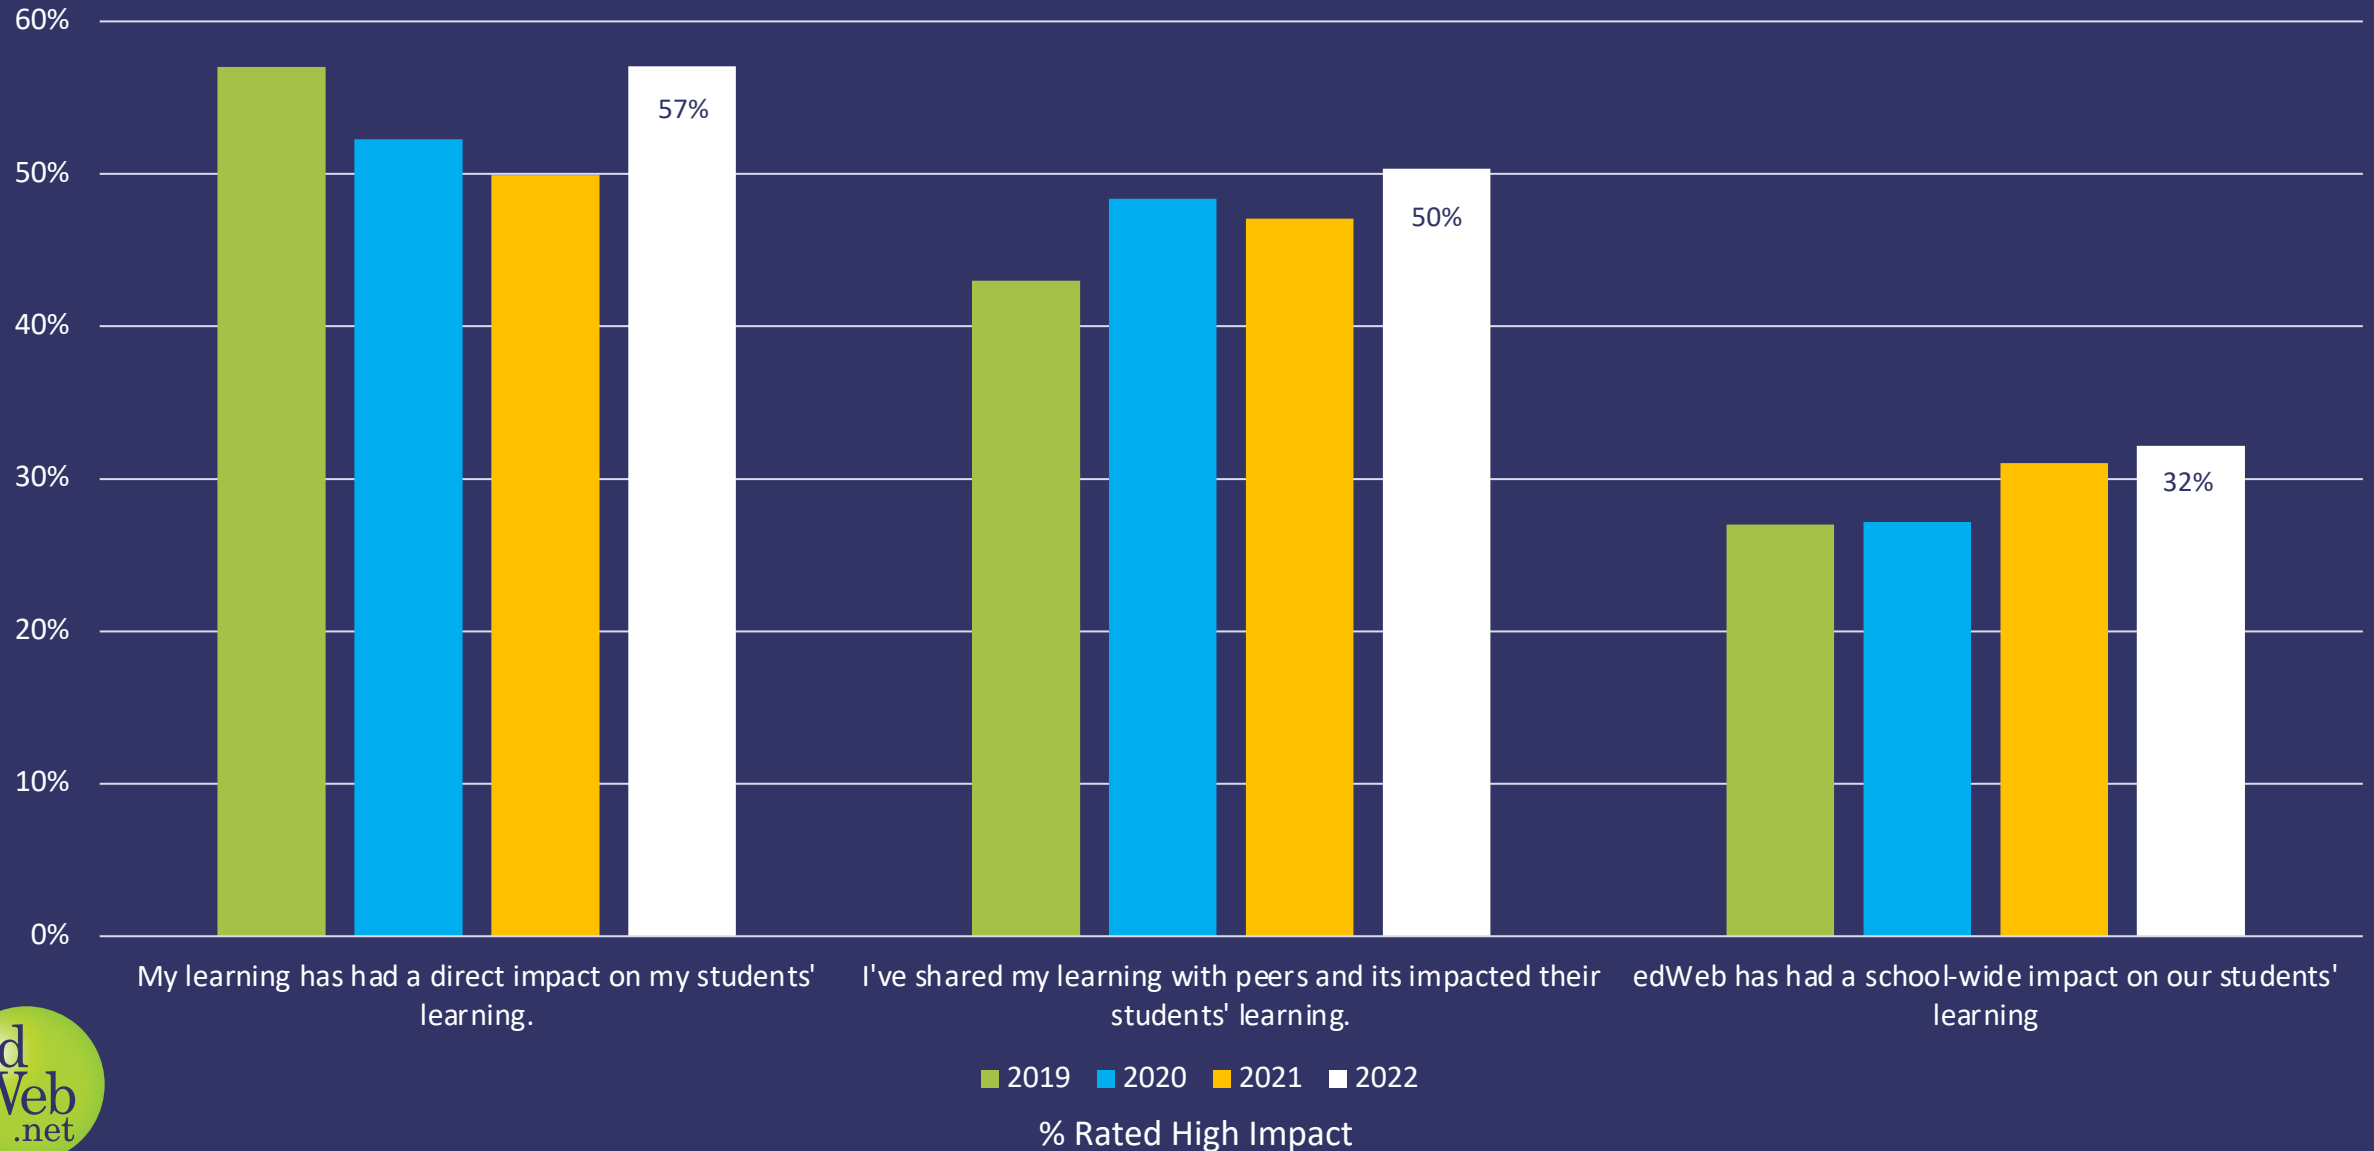

% Rated Very Helpful

How are you using edWeb CE certificates?

How much impact has edWeb had on your students' learning?

How likely are you to recommend edWeb to a colleague?

Teacher Comments

"I recommend edWeb regularly to faculty. I've learned more in a 60-minute webinar than I have in some full university courses. Thank you!"

"I love edweb and the variety of classes offered with flexibility of watching live or recorded. I forward all relevant offerings to my staff."

"edWeb is an amazing learning platform that has been a gift to me as an educator! It's convenient, informative, interesting and an amazing asset to the teaching profession!! Thank you!"

Teacher Comments

“Professional development has been made available in a format that is easy to access, without having to worry about COVID procedures. Participants and trainers have shared ideas on how to reach students in all types of situations.”

“I am an online teacher and have just discovered edweb. So far this year, it has been my go-to for professional development opportunities as it has been most relevant.”

“I've been able to explore topics tangentially related to my specialty and actually grow my knowledge base beyond where it would be if I had only been attending costly, in-person conferences or seminars related directly to my field.”

Teacher Professional Learning Survey 2022

