

edWeb.net

Professional Learning Survey 2024

edWeb.net is free professional learning network that provides online learning communities and edWebinars so educators can share ideas and best practices to improve teaching and learning for all students.

The results for our 2024 Professional Learning Survey include 5 years of data on edWeb members' feedback on the value and impact of our professional learning services.

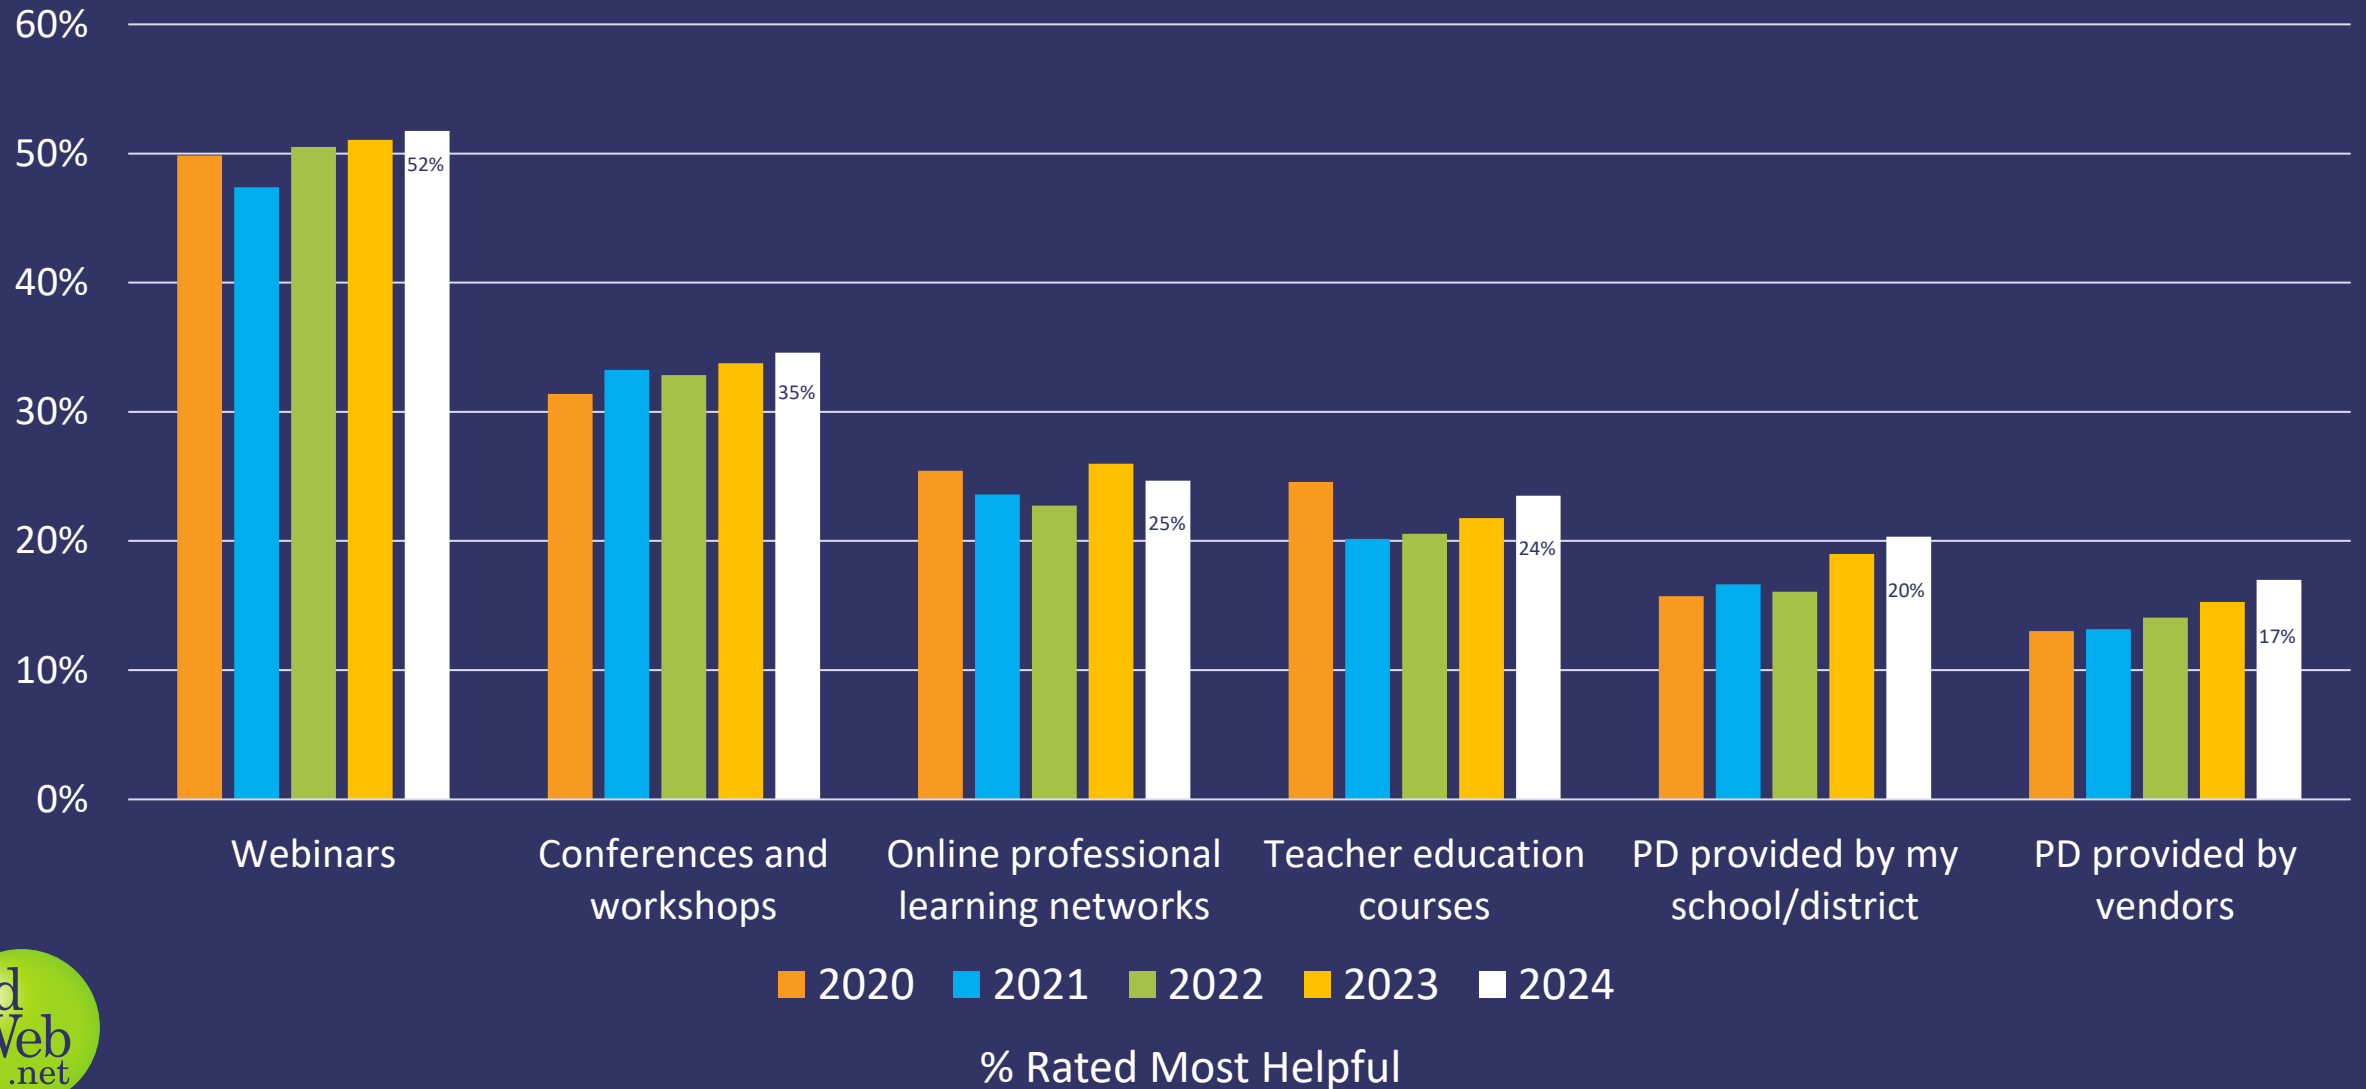

The 2024 survey was conducted in February and was sent via email to 151,546 edWeb members. We received over 1,200 replies, a comparable response with past years.

2024 Key Takeaways from edWeb Members

- Webinars are the professional learning activity that helps the most.
- Members most value content that is current and relevant with the flexibility to participate on their own time.
- edWeb helps members acquire information, resources, and knowledge.
- edWeb CE certificates are used by 67% of members for school and district PD hours and by 47% to renew their state teacher's license.
- edWeb shows an even higher impact on student learning this year with many edWeb members sharing their learning for school-wide impact.
- edWeb continues to get an exceptionally high “Net Promoter Score” of 77 from members, with many comments to help us understand our value and also ways we can continue to improve.

What types of professional development activities help you improve the most?

What is important to you in a professional learning program?

What is important to you in a professional learning program?

How has edWeb helped you this past year?

How much impact has edWeb had on your students' learning?

How are you using edWeb CE certificates?

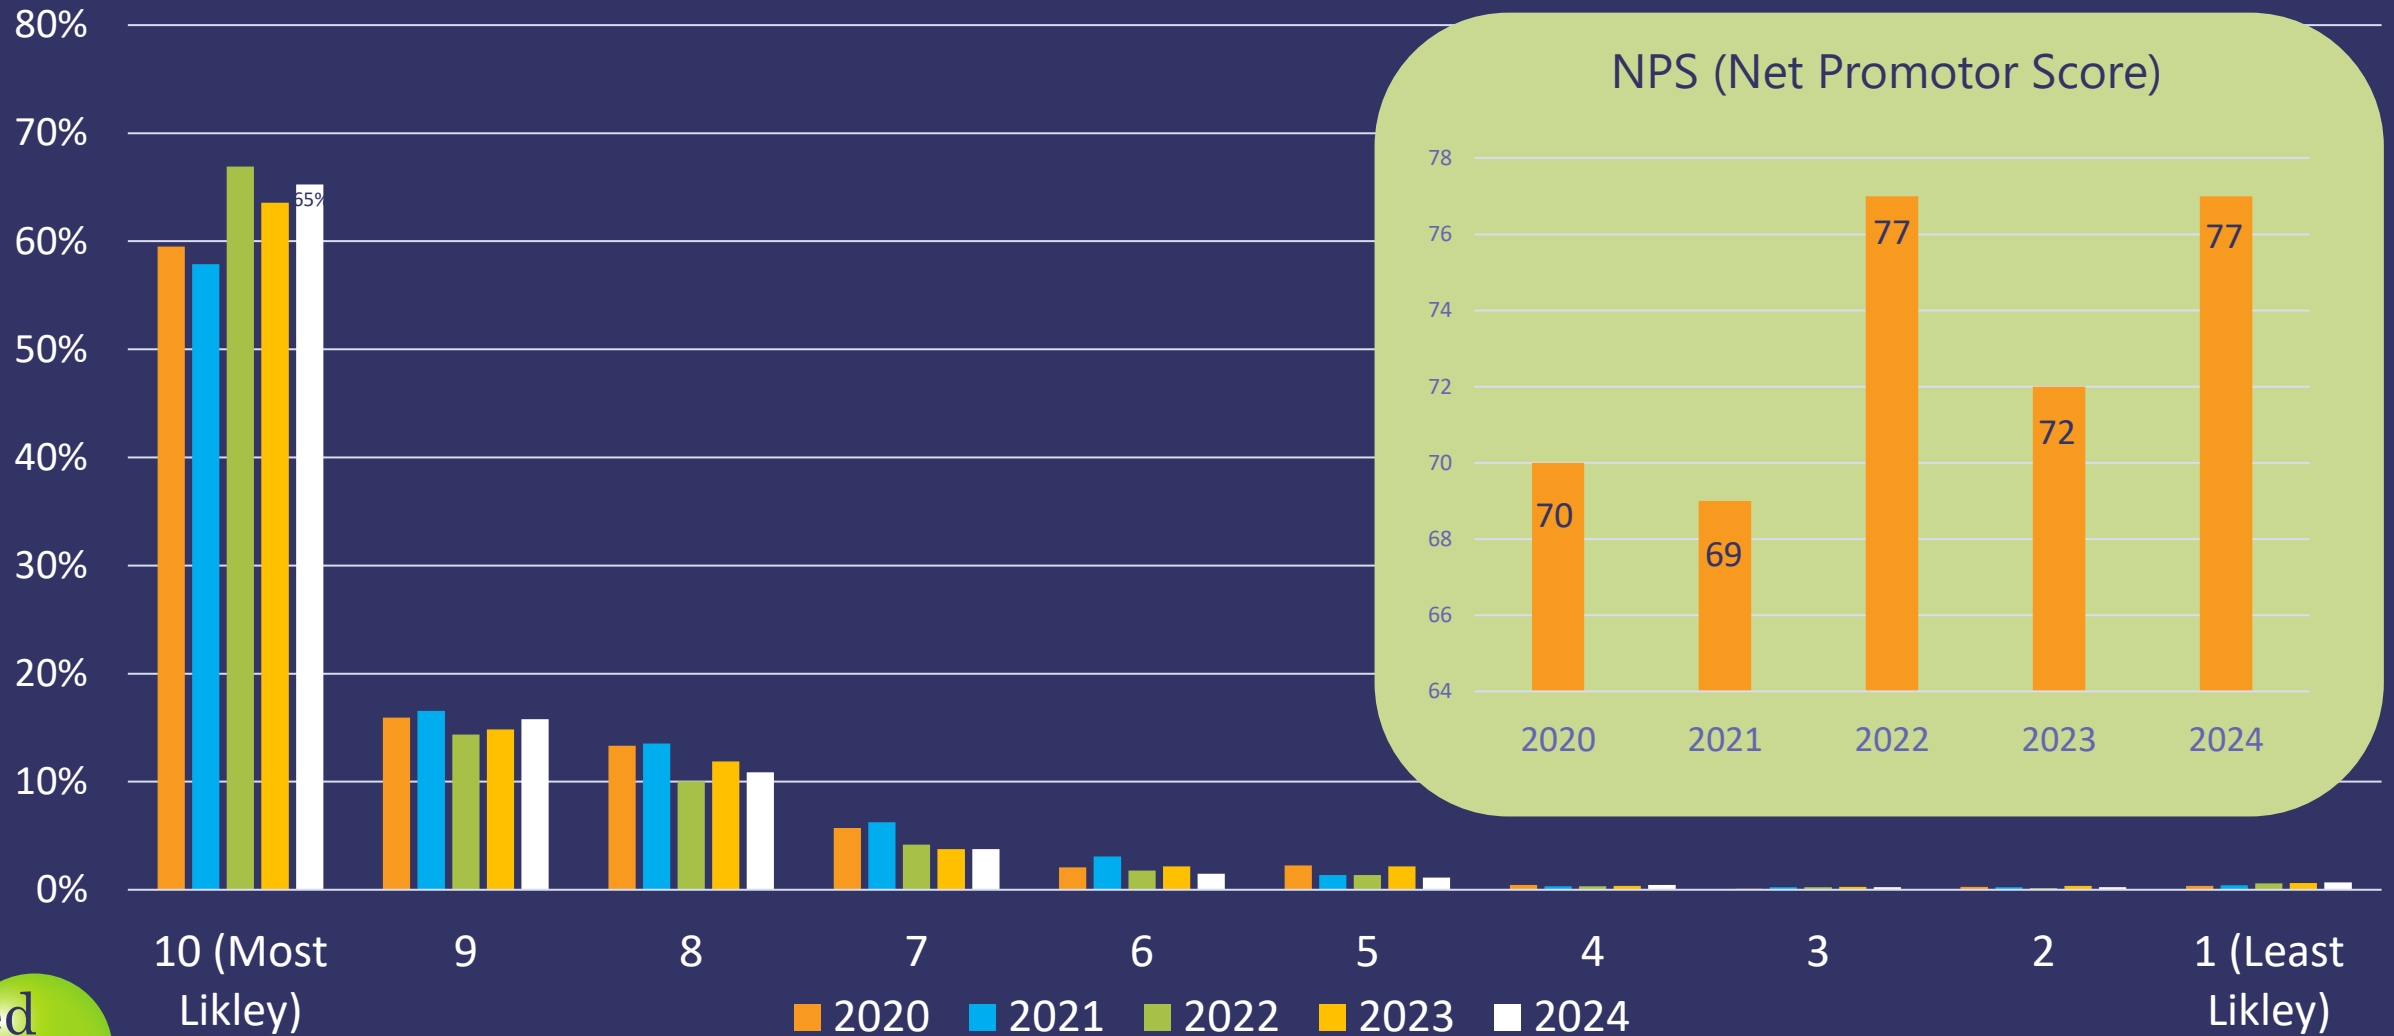

I use edWeb CE certificates for my school or district PD hours.

I use edWeb CE certificates for my teacher's license renewal.

2019 2022 2023 2024

How likely are you to recommend edWeb to a colleague?

Comments

- I recommend edWeb a lot for the variety of tools and webinars provided for my teachers, coaches, and facilitators. There is something to learn for everyone!
- Thank you for making high-quality professional development for teachers. It is easy to use with many available choices. It makes learning enjoyable for us since we have such busy schedules, meetings, and responsibilities. Thank you for making the webinars free.
- A wonderful resource to help our educators!! Thank you so much for providing this great service. I can't do my job well without you!
- edWeb.net has been very instrumental in helping me learn new and different things about autism and how to help the students in my class.
- I appreciate how easy it is to register and participate in quality PD on a variety of topics for free. It is so helpful to have access to recordings afterward. I enjoy the PLCs available for networking and support as well.

Comments

- Thank you so much for providing great content that is not only free but connects me to other educators and presenters across the country that I would not otherwise meet. Also, when I have reached out to your customer service team, they have been so nice and helpful. Glad I found edWeb!
- The consistency of relevant and cutting-edge material is remarkable. There is never any question that I will leave with several innovative ideas to implement. I recommend edWeb to my faculty all the time
- Thank you so much for providing the great variety of (FREE) webinars that apply directly to my teaching. I really appreciate being able to go back and watch the video later so I can pause the slides and take notes. This is very helpful. It also helps because I am not always able to watch them live. Many thanks!
- I LOVE the diversity of topics and that is it FREE. My district is Title I so professional development is always the first cut. Thank you for offering quality, relevant PD!

edWeb.net

Professional Learning Survey 2024